

Comparing per-well absorbance values between plate readers

Each point is the mean of three repeat readings per plate, read from the original and new plate readers.

